Australian Certified Organic

Method

2. In a small bowl, combine gelatine powder with 3 tbsp cold water. Set aside.
3. In a saucepan on medium, heat buttermilk, cream, honey, and vanilla, stirring occasionally. Remove when simmering.
4. Heat gelatine and water mixture in microwave for 15 seconds. Stir until well combined.
5. Whisk gelatine into hot milk and cream mixture. Cool for 15 minutes then pour evenly into ramekins. Set aside on benchtop to cool completely then refrigerate for 4 hours, or overnight.
6. To serve: dip ramekins into hot water then invert onto plates. Drizzle with honey and scatter with flaked almonds to serve.
7. Storage instructions: The panna cotta can be made and stored in the fridge overnight in their ramekins. The gelatine will continue to strengthen as it sits so we would not advise leaving longer.
